The Chair is required to call a meeting if asked to do so by the Director-General, and decide if a meeting is required if requested by another member or other interested party, such as the Chief Audit Executive (or equivalent), or the ANAO.

The accountable authority, or representative, will attend the members only session at the commencement of ASDARC meetings to provide members with an overview of key priorities and risks. The ASDARC has no executive powers in relation to the operations of the ASD. The ASDARC may only review the appropriateness of particular aspects of those operations, consistent with its functions and advise the Director-General accordingly.

Responsibility for the appropriateness of the ASD's financial reporting, performance reporting, system of risk oversight and management, and system of internal control rests with Director-General.

3.6 Conflicts of interest

At the beginning of each ASDARC meeting, members are required to declare any potential or actual conflicts of interests that may apply to specific matters on the meeting agenda. Where required by the ASDARC, the member will be excused from the meeting or from the ASDARC's consideration of the relevant agenda item(s). The Chair is responsible for deciding, in consultation with the Director-General where appropriate, if they should excuse themselves from the meeting or from the ASDARC's consideration of the relevant agenda item(s). Details of any material personal interests declared by the Chair and other members, and actions taken, will be appropriately recorded in the minutes.

New Committee members will receive relevant information and briefings on their appointment to assist them in meeting their responsibilities.

3.8 Committee performance

The Chair will provide advice to the Director-General on a member's performance where an extension of the member's tenure is being considered.
